

My name is Kristjana Hafdal Þorvarðardóttir and I am 18 years old. I was born on January 15th, 1993. I live in a small town called Höfn which is in the south-east coast of Iceland. There are four of us in my family. My mom Sveinbjörg, my dad Þorvarður, and my little brother Auðunn. My father is a fisherman and my mom is a hairdresser. I also have a guinea pig and his name is Villi.

At school I am studying sociology, psychology, history, Icelandic, Spanish and many other things. When I graduate from FAS I want to move to Spain to learn more Spanish and in the future I want to be make-up artist and psychologist.

Last summer I worked at the Glacier Lagoon. There you can take a trip on boats to see icebergs and seals and also go walking on the biggest glacier in Europe.

I like listening to music and I enjoy being with good friends. But I am also very adventurous so I love travelling and experiencing new things such as different cultures and exploring other countries. I am from the country side of Iceland so I have the privilege of enjoying our nature which I like very much.
