

Today we met a t the school at 9 o'clock. The Icelandic students did their presentations on alternative energy resources and their application in Iceland. Then the Lithuanian students gave presentations on a similar subject. We watched a short movie about ecological situation in the world.

We ate lunce in th school cafeteria, which was good. After lunch we worked in mixed groups, Icelanders and Lithuanians, and were suppose d to make artwork from trash.

Around two o'clock we visited the NATO base at Siauliai military airport. The Danish airforce is patrolling the Lithuanian airspace and we got to see the F-16 fighter planes they use for that. For many in the group it was probably the highligt of the trip to Lithuania to visit the air force base. For the Icelanders it was also a new experience to see armed soldiers guarding the premises.

After this visit the

have a lot of fun and the machine for cause we have never seen a military war base. This
