

Today we came t o school at nine o'clock. We started to work in five mixed groups. Every group needed to write five questions about energy sources and Lithuania and Iceland. We made a quiz and the other groups answered. For the answers we got a prize, Lithuanian chocolate.

After that we gave presentations about how people are going to use energy in the future and what kind of energy.

Then we ate lunch at school. The food was very good, we had salmon. After lunch each group had to write a short summary about what we have been doing here in Lithuania.

At half past two was an entertainment program at the auditorium prepared by Lithuanian students. The principal of the school came and gave us certificates for our work with the Lithuanian students. Then we got some free time.

Some people went shopping and other went and got something to eat. When we arrived back at school the Lithuanian students were waiting with some food and we had a farewell party where we ate, sang and had a good time. After the farewell party we had to go home and finish packing and spend some time with the families. It is possible that not everyone will get some sleep tonight. We have to be at school just before two in the morning to start our trip back home.

Tanks for a great time in Lithuania - the AER group from Iceland
