

The last morning together with the Icelanders, who became our best friends. It was hard to say goodbye and leave them, but I believe, that we will meet again. Our Journey began in town Hofn, from which we traveled 12 hours to a hotel in Keflavik. While travelling, we saw one of the most beautiful waterfalls in Iceland – Gulfoss, some geysers and national park. In the evening we went to Solveig's house in Reykjavik and her mother made a delicious dinner for us. The soup and the cakes were very delicious. At about 9 p.m. we came to Keflavik hotel and we were really tired, but went to our beds full of impressions, that Reykjavik left us.

Paulina Gruslyte

