At 02:00

it was time to meet at school, say goodbye and start to journey home. Some of the students hadn't slept at all and were rather tired.

It was difficult to say goodbye and most of the Icelandic students wanted to stay longer.

The next 24 hours were all about travelling and trying to get some rest at airports and in airplanes. The pictures show the journey home.

After 24 hours we finally arrived home. All of us were very tired and we were looking forward for a good night sleep.
